

UP OF DECREES.

Judge McAdam Thought the Papers Had Been Tattered With.

Another Tangle in the Warren Divorce Case.

Request May Be Considered for Increase of Alimony.

A motion was made before Judge McAdam of the Superior Court, today for a re-issuance of the final order granting Mrs. Minnie C. Warren an absolute divorce from Lawyer Lyman E. Warren.

It was announced that the decree issued by Judge McAdam had been tampered with.

Lawyer David May, of Howe & Hummel's office, said he was sure no tampering with the decree had been done in their office. He admitted, however, that the decree attached to the judgment roll was not the one he drew.

Judge McAdam said the offense charged was a most serious one, and he stopped the proceedings to await the arrival of Mr. Hummel, for whom a messenger was sent.

Lawyer Woodward and Meyer were associated with Howe & Hummel as Mrs. Warren's counsel.

After Mr. Hummel's arrival both Lawyers Woodward and Meyer explained to Judge McAdam that they had been Mrs. Warren's lawyers for years, and when she began the divorce action against her husband they retained Howe & Hummel, as they did not wish to appear as attorneys of record in a divorce proceeding.

They said that when Mrs. Warren showed them the decree, which Mr. Hummel had given to her, and which was signed by Judge McAdam, they were astonished to see that only $40 a month alimony had been granted to her, and a provision that the alimony should cease should she marry again.

They said that they saw Mr. Hummel, and ascertained that the decree, although it was attached to a decree of Judge McAdam, was not the one drawn in his office and submitted by him to the Court.

It is finally pointed out that there had been no tampering with the decree, as Judge McAdam had signed the one submitted by Mr. Warren.

"If you are dissatisfied, I will set aside the judgment," said Judge McAdam.

Mr. Warren said: "The $40 a week now gets me more than my father ever got, and he raised a family of six children."

FOUND GIRLS IN THE BOXES.

An Attempt to Smuggle Japanese Women Into This Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The steamer China, which arrived yesterday from the Orient, brings a peculiar story of the methods employed to smuggle girls into this country for improper purposes.

While the steamer was in Yokohama a Japanese passenger asked to have four large boxes taken to his stateroom. This was refused, as the boxes were too large.

The boxes were left on the wharf to be placed in the hold with the other cargo. Just as they were being hoisted up a peculiar noise issuing from one of the boxes attracted the attention of the steward.

Upon examination the police found that the boxes contained the most lifeless bodies of four Japanese girls, who were overcome by suffocation.

The boxes were only two feet and three inches in length and eighteen inches broad and were covered with small holes at one end, and when the boxes were opened the wharf end of the holes were closed.

The Japanese was not apprehended. Three of the girls were found dead, and the other was going to Tacoma.

HE LEFT HER FOR ANOTHER.

So Says Mrs. Millicent Lowe in Her Suit for Divorce.

Her Husband Denies Charges and Says They Agreed to Separate.

A motion was made before Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, today, by counsel for Mrs. Millicent Lowe, for a counsel fee of $500 and $20 a week alimony, pending the trial of the action for an absolute divorce she has brought against Eugene N. Lowe.

Mrs. Lowe is a pretty woman, about twenty-eight years old. She was formerly a Miss Goodrich. Her father is a wealthy and well-known resident of Mount Vernon, and Mrs. Lowe has resided with him since her husband's death.

It is alleged, left and refused to support her about five years ago.

The defendant is the only son of James Lowe, an old and wealthy resident of the Ninth Ward. He is said to be worth about half a million dollars.

The couple were married June 14, 1882, and had two children, one of whom died about two years ago.

In her affidavit Mrs. Lowe says that she lived happily with her husband until the winter of 1889, when he came to spend the winter with them. From that time, Mrs. Lowe says, her husband began to neglect her.

Early in 1891, Mrs. Lowe states, she caught her husband in a compromising position with a nurse girl employed by them. She endeavored to remonstrate with him, but he refused to alter his conduct and left her.

He went to live, she alleges, at Twelfth street and Sixth avenue, with an unmarried woman. Mrs. Lowe alleges that she made every effort to induce her husband to return to her, and even went so far as to appear to the woman he was living with, but in vain.

She says that when he first left her he used occasionally to call upon her, and for a time allowed her $50 for expenses.

Finally, in May, 1893, she says, he came to her and said that he was living and sold the furniture and many of her wedding presents, realizing about $2,000. She says that for five years he has not contributed a cent to her support.

Mr. Lowe was represented by counsel. He denies his wife's charges and says that he never left her, and that he was engaged in business of that firm is being wound up and that he is practically without an income.

THREW A STEEL AT THE BOYS. KNIFE USED WITH EFFECT.

It Pierced Tony Ruffo's Lung and He May Die.

Mrs. Luigi Lamole Held to Await the Result of His Injury.

Mrs. Luigi Lamole was held in Jefferson Market Court today by Justice McAdam to await the result of an injury alleged to have been inflicted by her son Tony Ruffo, aged ten, of 72 Thompson street, who is said to be in a dying condition.

Mrs. Lamole keeps a butcher-shop at 70 Thompson street, and has been much annoyed by boys, who are in the habit of congregating before her shop. Last Friday morning, when she went to the door and told them to keep still, they mocked and jeered at her. Mrs. Lamole then took her knife and seized a butcher's steel and threw it at the boys, who ran away.

The steel struck little Tony in the back just as he was skurrying for the shelter of his hallway next door. It cut an ugly gash, and had to be extracted by neighbors. Tony dropped to the ground and lay fainting until he was carried into the house.

Mrs. Lamole immediately left for parts unknown to await the result of the injury. She was found by Dr. P. E. Bush, of 44 Chatham street, which stated that Tony was in a dangerous condition. The steel pierced his left lung.

CLAUSEN IS NETTLED

He Tries to Explain that Park Board Contract Affair.

Admits He Was an Officer of the Sicilian Asphalt Company.

That Concern Seems to Be in High Favor in the Department.

President Clausen tried to explain today why he wanted all work under the million-dollar appropriation for park improvements done by contract.

He said it would be done quicker by contract than by day's work, but failed to say why so little had been done by day's work, why it could be done quicker by contract.

Mr. Clausen admitted that he had been an officer of the Sicilian Asphalt Company, which was patronized by the Park Board in the purchase of asphalt for the exclusion of all other companies, but that he was not now connected with the company and did not own any stock in it.

The price paid to the Sicilian Asphalt Company for asphalt was $17.19. The Seyser Company offered to furnish the material for $15.00, and the Sicilian Asphalt Company to the Seyser Company's figures, and the Seyser Company was shut out. So was the Sicilian Asphalt Company, which offered to furnish asphalt for $15.00 per ton.

President Clausen said the Standard Asphalt Company, because of the law was not excluded in the purchase of asphalt. The law says no city department can purchase supplies for more than $1,000 unless competitive bids have been invited for the same.

The asphalt purchased out of the million-dollar fund was ordered in $300 lots, to avoid inviting bids, and sometimes three purchases of this kind were made in one day.

Comptroller Bell said he was not paid for "orders" made under this private agreement. He said he was not paid until he was satisfied that the law had not been violated. The claim of the Sicilian Asphalt Company is $24,000.

Commissioner Bell made an important amendment today to his remarks in the Board yesterday. He said: "I said that all work should be stopped until all asphalt work should be stopped."

There is $120,000 to be expended on asphalt work and about $30,000 on other contracts. The asphalt work will be thrown out of work under the new order.

Thomas Coreo, the so-called wild man of Claremont Park, was arrested in the park at 4 A. M. today by Roundsman John W. Smith and Policeman Kennedy, of the Tremont mounted police.

Later he was arraigned in Morrisania Police Court and was committed to Bellevue Hospital so that the insanity experts might determine his mental condition.

Coreo had anything out of the appearance of a half-starved man, as described. He is fat and apparently well fed. He was, however, poorly dressed and had not been shaved for two weeks.

He answered Justice Hughes' questions intelligently. He said he was a laborer, and being out of work and having no home, he slept in the cave. He said he never intentionally tried to harm any one, but admitted having quarreled with some of his own countrymen who had annoyed him.

The policeman saw Coreo cross a field and go into a vacant house used by Charles Jones for storage. The man submitted to arrest without resistance. He asked to be allowed to get a few articles from his sleeping place, which is an old excavation with a large rock projecting at the top, forming a sort of roof. Two small trees stand on the edge of the excavation.

From the furthest corner of the artificial cave Coreo drew his alleged weapons of war. They were a clay pipe, a jackknife, bits of paper, a straw hat and a rusty, broken scythe.

Coreo was taken to the police station in that part of the Annexed District for a mental examination. He was found to be sane and was released. He was taken to the police station in that part of the Annexed District for a mental examination. He was found to be sane and was released.

Tuberculosis Discovered in Dairyman Wright's Herd.

Had Been Shipping Milk to West Forty-seventh Street.

Dr. Johnson, veterinarian to the Board of Health, reported today that he had found five of a herd of sixty-six cows on the farm of William Wright, at Golden's Bridge, on the Harlem Railroad, suffering from tuberculosis.

Mr. Wright, he said, had been shipping eleven cans of milk daily to forty-seventh street, this city. He promised to isolate the five cows and to not use any more of their milk.

Dr. W. H. Pondy, veterinarian to the Brooklyn Board of Health, was present at the examination, and coincided with the diagnosis of Dr. Johnson.

Last Sunday two cows which had been shipped from Wright's farm were butchered at the association slaughterhouse, Forty-fourth street and East River.

The beer was subsequently condemned by Health inspectors, who found that the cows were full of tubercles, and the meat, therefore, was unfit for use. Dr. Johnson made an investigation and succeeded in tracing the cattle, with the result told above.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'S FINAL

Work Before Rest.

Eight New Members Elected and Legislation Mapped Out.

The Chamber of Commerce met today for the last time previous to the long Summer vacation which its members take every year.

These were elected members: Stephen Baker, A. Swan Brown, Howard Carroll, Augustus P. Libby, Robert Moore, Charles A. Clapp, William J. Schieffelin and Tenor L. Park.

A memorial reported by the Committee on Foreign Commerce and Revenue Laws, was adopted. It recommends that railroad companies should be made subject to the same regulations as other carriers of passengers and freight, and that the Interstate Commerce Commission should be empowered to regulate the rates of such companies.

The resolution was adopted setting forth that the issuing of fire insurance policies by corporations of unknown responsibility whose offices are out of the State, and who can only do business here through licensed brokers, is a matter of public concern, and that the law should be amended so as to compel a uniform classification of such companies.
